Let's Focus on What Really Matters

We are living in tender and intense times. There are many in our community who are fearful for themselves and their loved ones. There are many who are heartbroken to see the democratic foundation of our country tested by actions and orders that go against everything that we were taught to believe about the promise of the United States of America. I believe that in times of fear we are well served to root ourselves in Jewish tradition.

Shabbat is one of the most powerful pieces of spiritual technology that Judaism has to offer. It is a time to focus not on the political pain of the moment but on what really matters: family, friends and community. Good food and thoughtful conversation. Taking the time to look out the window at the snowy landscape and feel gratitude for the beauty of the scene and also for the warm home from which it is viewed.

Shabbat is a time to sing. I readily connect with the people I am praying with and the God I am praying to when the prayer is sung.

Shabbat is a time to study and learn. I enjoy discussing Torah, be it a sermon delivered from the bimah in the sanctuary or Torah study around the tables in the Sofen room.

Shabbat is a time to enjoy good food together. I enjoy connecting with people over kiddush after services in the social hall or at a lavish Shabbat dinner in my home.

Shabbat is a time to remember who we are and to recommit to our core values. In the words of the leadership of my rabbinic association: "Our tradition calls upon us to pursue justice and to honor the infinite variety of creation. The Talmud teaches that each person is created b'tzelem elohim, in the image of the Divine. It is this principle that affirms our commitment to fight for a world where every person's identity is cherished and protected. We recommit ourselves to fight for dignity, safety and equity for all people. Together, we will continue to challenge the forces of hate and fear with the enduring power of love, justice and hope."

February Lunch & Learn Series: Jewish Thought on Interpersonal Ethics

In-person at CoM or on Zoom
Every Wednesday in February at noon with Rabbi Goldman

What does Jewish tradition have to say about our obligations to other people: when we know them and when we don't; when we like them and even when they are our enemies?

In this moment of flux and change, please join Rabbi Goldman for four stimulating discussions on interpersonal ethics using texts provided by the Shalom Hartman Institute.

SHALOM HARTMAN מכון
INSTITUTE הרטמן שלום

February 5, noon - The Bystander Effect

Jewish teachings actively discourage the tendency to passively observe injustice ("bystander behavior") and instead encourage individuals to actively intervene and stand up against wrongdoing ("upstander behavior"), using both positive reinforcement of ethical conduct and warnings against inaction.

February 12, noon - The Ethics of Rebuke

We are responsible for others and we may not stand by idly when someone does wrong. How do these obligations translate into feelings toward, and communication with, those who have wronged you or others?

February 19, noon - The Ethics of Sacrifice

What obligations do we have to protect other people's lives? What must we be willing to sacrifice in order to fulfill these obligations?

February 26, noon - What Does It Mean to "Build Community?"

Communities create a web of relationships and bind people not only to individuals they know but also to a group of people as a whole. Being part of a community obligates people to participate in the group's institutional structures. There is no limit to the kindnesses that can be offered and/or the physical work that individuals can give to support the community.

Family (Tot) Shabbat Services

Rabbis Goldman and Schicker invite you and your little ones to join us for our relaunch of Tot Shabbat Services. All are invited - so bring some friends!

Please note that each month the location will alternate between CoM and TBI.

HEBREW FREE LOAN

Hebrew Free Loan Detroit (HFL) has been offering interest-free loans to Jews across Michigan since 1895. HFL partners with borrowers to enhance lives in many ways.

Their interest-free loans help with paying bills, dental and medical costs, high-interest debt consolidation, transportation, legal fees, home repairs or the unexpected challenges that life throws at us—after a car accident or an illness, divorce or death.

If this is something you would like to know more about, there are flyers outside the office with information. More information at hfldetroit.org.

“The Wars in Israel's North and South: Exhaustion and Resilience”

February 9 at CoM, from 1:00 - 3:00 pm

The Jewish Federation of Southwest Michigan is sponsoring a talk by Linda Gradstein, the Israel bureau chief for The Media Line news agency.

Gradstein was the Israel correspondent for NPR News from 1990 until 2009. As a freelance reporter, she has reported for PRI's "The World."

Gradstein is a member of the team that received the Overseas Press Club Award for her coverage of the assassination of Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, and the team that received the Alfred I. DuPont-Columbia University Award for Excellence in Broadcast Journalism for her coverage of the Persian Gulf War.

She has covered important events in Israel, the West Bank and Gaza Strip including the intifada, the mass immigration of Soviet immigrants to Israel, the return of Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat to Gaza, the rise of Hamas, the assassination of Yitzhak Rabin, the Persian Gulf war and two elections in Israel. She speaks both Hebrew and Arabic.

Please note: You must pre-register online at congregationofmoses.org to attend this event.

AEDS HAVE BEEN INSTALLED AT COM

Been in the Congregation of Moses building recently? You may have noticed that, in addition to first-aid and stop-the-bleed kits, we now have two automatic external defibrillators (AEDs). One is located in the school wing, right outside the Sofen room, and the other is outside the main kitchen, off the corridor. Although these units are designed to require little training, as they audibly walk users through steps for their use, we will have trainings within the next few months. Stay tuned for updates!

Hope for Creation
invites you to:

Saturday morning Kiddush is an integral part of the celebration of Shabbat and hosting one is a great way for you to be involved in the CoM community. It is important that all members occasionally host Kiddush so that the responsibility is spread out over the entire congregation.

Each member of the CoM community is asked to host a Kiddush 2-3 times a year. Two member families are randomly assigned a date to co-host. Dennis Means or Wilma Kahn will be on hand to answer questions on your Shabbat morning. You will also receive an email about a month in advance with detailed instructions. You do not need to purchase food, though you may if you wish. The request is purely to set up and clean up our normal fare.

Please find your date on the schedule below and confirm by email that you will be able to host on that Shabbat morning. We realize that some of the dates might not work for you. We only ask that you notify us immediately if this is the case. We will be able to find an alternative date for you, but we will need time to find a replacement host and a new date for you.

Thank you in advance for playing an important part in this weekly ritual. Please feel free to contact us with any concerns or questions.

Rav Todot/Many Thanks,

DEATH OVER DESSERT

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 6:00 – 8:30 PM

AT TEMPLE B'NAI ISRAEL

A facilitated discussion about death and dying and what to know before you go, offered by the TBI Board.

Talking about end-of-life considerations at our tables rather than in an ICU when it's too late, better prepares us to approach life's most challenging moments and helps us to articulate and affirm who we are and what we ultimately care about in both a good life and a good death. Please consider joining us for this special evening of dessert* and two very thoughtful programs that address both the spiritual and the practical:

- Death Over Dessert* - Jewish Edition (deathoverdinner-jewishedition.org)

- What to Know Before You Go, by Debbie

Eisenbise, Master of Divinity and end-of-life doula. Since 2018, Debbie Eisenbise has been an end-of-life doula with Through the Threshold End of Life Doula Services and Advance Care Planning. She is also a spiritual director, grief counselor, ordained minister in the Church of the Brethren and adjunct instructor in the Holistic Health and Contemplative Wellbeing program at WMU. At WMU, she teaches courses on Successful Aging, and Holistic Practices for Illness and End of Life. She lives in Kalamazoo, meets regularly with other end-of-life doulas and those in the death positive movement.

We will begin the evening with a short Havdalah service, then proceed to our dessert discussion and conclude with Rev. Eisenbise's presentation. All adult members of TBI and CoM are welcome to join us.
